*Better than Yellowstone?
You decide....*

Leave the crowds behind and discover for yourself what the mountain men found – a wild and remote country surrounded by three breathtaking mountain ranges, filled with abundant wildlife and pristine lakes. Follow in their footsteps and explore the headwaters of the Green River, then journey down to one of our small, friendly towns and experience true western hospitality. Join a local celebration honoring heritage, history and hard work. Reprovision, and then hit the trail again, on foot, horseback, mountain bike, boat, snowmobile or skis. Catch a fish, catch some air, catch your breath – welcome to Sublette County!

Fun and Entertaining Events

Events in Sublette County take advantage of its stunning mountain location, lively Western character and friendly communities. Even the most hard-bitten mountain man would agree that Sublette County reserves some of its greatest natural splendor, and biggest cultural events, for the balmy summer months. Beautiful summer days fill up quickly with music festivals, fairs, the Mountain Man Rendezvous, rodeos, ropings and barbecues.

Wintertime snows also bring plenty of events for both locals and visitors to enjoy. The International Pedigree Stage Stop Sled Dog Race, entertaining snowmobiling events, ice fishing derbies, the Green River Valley Winter Carnival, ice skating and ice hockey games... all are great places to meet people, have fun and get to know Sublette County.

Three mountain ranges, seven of the largest glaciers in the continental United States, hundreds of miles of hiking, biking, snowmobiling and cross country ski trails, over 1,300 natural lakes; a million acres of breathtaking beauty to explore in our uncrowded paradise!

Summer Adventures

Summertime in Sublette County brings endless options for adventure, including camping, fishing, hiking, backpacking, and horseback riding. Climbers and mountaineers can challenge themselves on Gannett Peak, Wyoming's highest point, or the rugged Cirque of the Towers in the Wind River Mountains. For those who prefer not to hike, there are miles of roads for 4-wheeling, trails for mountain biking, and lakes for sailing, fishing, and other water fun. Fall brings fantastic color to the mountains, and world-class hunting opportunities.

Winter Wonderland

Sublette County's high peaks wear a thick blanket of snow in the winter. Outdoor enthusiasts enjoy every winter sport imaginable. White Pine Ski Area offers great family-friendly downhill skiing, while cross country skiers and snowshoers appreciate over 60 km of groomed area trails. Experienced adventurers savor the silence of unlimited backcountry options. Closer to town, enjoy ice fishing, hockey, ice skating and dog sledding.

"Best of the West" - that's the Continental Divide Snowmobile Trail and the Wyoming Range Snowmobile Trail - both of which are located in the heart of Sublette County. Easy access to some of the world's most scenic snowmobiling is available from all our friendly towns.

Fascinating Heritage

Artifacts of Native Americans hunting and living in this area date back 10,000 years and can be found at local museums in both Pinedale and Big Piney.

Next to arrive were intrepid explorers, bold men who traveled into the valley around 1811 with the American Fur Company. In their footsteps followed the mountain men such as Jim Bridger and William Sublette, who established this as a site for the famous Fur Trade Rendezvous. The Oregon Trail emigrants also passed through the county. Ranchers, cowboys, outlaws, Pony Express riders...all would follow and help develop Sublette County's fascinating cultural heritage.

The Most Scenic Country in the West

Bring your binoculars and a camera to Sublette County-this is some of the most scenic country in the West. Set at 7000' in elevation, you'll find rivers, lakes, wildlife and towering mountains. Three rugged mountain ranges - the Wind River, Gros Ventre, and Wyoming ranges surround our high desert on three sides.

One of Sublette County's most scenic and popular destinations accessible by car is the Green River Lakes.

Not only is the journey to Green River Lakes scenic and rich in history, but the end point rewards the traveler with the stunning, much-photographed view of Squaretop Mountain looming over the blue-green lakes, with stands of aspen and pine blanketing the hillsides.

Sublette County's spectacular Bridger Wilderness area contains more than 1.2 million acres of designated wilderness, offering primitive backcountry experiences. Along with the Gros Ventre Wilderness, these regions provide pristine, unspoiled terrain where man is but a visitor. Indeed, deer and antelope outnumber people ten-fold in this high mountain valley, so it's easy to enjoy wildlife year around in their natural habitat. Sublette County is home to elk, mule deer, antelope, wolves, moose, grizzly and black bear, big horn sheep, and a wide variety of fish.

Oregon Trail

In the 1840's through 1850's, with the fur trade era over, emigrants began passing through the area on their way to Oregon and California. The Lander Cut-Off, a short cut of the Oregon Trail established in 1859, passes through the county and parts of the trail are still visible today and can be followed.

"Buckskin Crossing", on Big Sandy Creek, was a ford of the Lander Cut-off of the Oregon Trail. It was an important resting and watering campsite that was heavily used by the emigrants. Of their hundreds of wagons and thousands of mules, cattle and horses, only a few marked graves remain. This trail was the mail route from the east to the west side of the Wind River Mountains in the early 1900's.

Wildlife Wonders

In the shadow of Wyoming's Wind River Mountains sits the longest wildlife migration route in the lower 48 states. For at least 6,000 years, pronghorn antelope, mule deer, and other wildlife have traveled the 160-mile stretch between their mountainous summer range in and around Teton National Park and the rolling, high-elevation sage plains of southwest Wyoming that serve as their wintering grounds.

Rendezvous Grounds

In the early 1820s and 1830s, western Wyoming was the heart of "mountain man" country. Hardy fur traders and trappers, such as Jim Bridger and William Sublette, came here to make a living from the beaver that inhabited the area streams. The Green River Valley was the site for most of the fur trade Rendezvous which were held in the spring to refurbish the mountain men with supplies and buy the pelts. The annual Rendezvous, which was held in a different location each year, brought many mountain men and natives together for fun and trade. This valley and the rendezvous were such a central part of the fur trade era that phrase "Meet me on the Green" was known by all.

The Pony Express

Although very short-lived, the Pony Express was an exciting aspect of the early area history. For eighteen months, starting in April 1860, Pony Express riders carried the mail some 2,000 miles in ten days. Each rode over 100 miles a day, changing horses every 10-15 miles. They connected California and Oregon to the rest of the United States. The completion of the transcontinental telegraph in October 1861, and instant communication, signaled the end of the Pony Express.
